ALBANY INTERNATIONAL REPORTS FIRST-QUARTER 2003
EARNINGS OF 65 CENTS PER SHARE

First-Quarter Highlights

- Net income per share was $0.65, compared to $0.10 per share for the same period last year.
- Net income in the quarter included $0.16 per share related to the favorable resolution of certain income tax matters.
- Net sales were $210.4 million, an increase of 9.7 percent compared to the same period last year.
- Operating income was $27.7 million, an increase of 24.2 percent compared to the first quarter of 2002.
- Cash flow from operating activities was $32.3 million during the quarter, compared to $7.8 million in the first quarter of last year.

Albany, New York, April 24, 2003—Albany International Corp. (NYSE/PCX/FWB: AIN) reported first-quarter net income per share of $0.65, which included a favorable adjustment of $0.16 per share related to the resolution of certain income tax matters. This compares to net income per share of $0.10 in the same period last year. Excluding the effect of the favorable adjustment to income tax expense in 2003 and the cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle in 2002, first-quarter earnings per share were $0.49 in 2003 and $0.28 in 2002. Net income per share for the first quarter of 2002 included a charge of $0.18 related to the adoption of Financial Accounting Standard No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets."

Net sales increased $18.6 million, or 9.7 percent compared to the same period last year. Excluding the effect of changes in currency translation rates, net sales increased 2.6 percent.

Gross profit was 42.5 percent of net sales in the first quarter of 2003, compared to 42.0 percent in the first quarter of 2002.

Selling, technical, general, and research expenses increased 6.3 percent compared to the same period last year, but decreased 1.2 percent excluding the effect of changes in currency translation rates.

Operating income was $27.7 million, an increase of $5.4 million, or 24.2 percent, over the first quarter of last year. The increase is due principally to higher sales and the impact of cost reduction initiatives. Changes in currency translation rates had a negligible effect on total operating income during the quarter.

Other expense, net, was $1.2 million for the quarter, compared to $4.4 million in the first quarter of 2002. The decrease is due principally to the remeasurement of intercompany balances at operations that held amounts denominated in currencies other than their local currency.

Income tax expense was $1.5 million in the first quarter of 2003, a decrease of $3.2 million from the first quarter of 2002. The decrease is due in part to a reduction of the estimated effective income tax rate from 35 percent in the first quarter of 2002 to 30 percent in the first quarter of 2003, a reduction that was anticipated as stated in the Company's previous earnings announcement. The lower tax rate had the effect of increasing earnings by $0.03 per share. In addition, the Company received notification of the final resolution regarding certain income tax matters, which resulted in a reduction to first-quarter 2003 tax expense of $5.2 million, or $0.16 per share.

Comments on Operations

Chairman and CEO Frank Schmeler commented, "Although the markets we serve remained sluggish, the Company improved first-quarter results, largely due to the impact of our cost reduction efforts and favorable shifts in product mix, resulting in part from the introduction of the Albany Value

Concept. An early benefit of the Albany Value Concept, a business strategy designed to deliver economic value to our customers, is a clear shift to higher value Albany products and services.

"Cash flow was strong in the first quarter of 2003. Net cash provided by operating activities was $32.3 million, compared to $7.8 million in the first quarter of 2002. The increase is due principally to higher net income, which included $5.2 million of a $6.1 million cash refund associated with the favorable resolution of certain tax matters. Accounts receivable decreased $0.6 million, and $4.5 million when changes in currency translation rate effects are excluded. Inventories increased $5.0 million, and $2.3 million excluding the effect of changes in currency translation rates.

Engineered Fabrics

"First-quarter 2003 net sales for the Engineered Fabrics segment increased 9.3 percent as compared to the same period last year. Excluding the effect of changes in currency translation rates, net sales were 3.0 percent higher than the first quarter of 2002. On a global basis, paper and paperboard operating rates, one measure of industry trends, remained unchanged with only selected regional improvements. Sales improvements were due principally to shifts in product mix.

"As paper and paperboard companies look to improve their operations, we are introducing new products that help our customers improve the efficiency of their operations and the quality of their products. By documenting improvements, we encourage customers to focus on their major cost drivers, which include fiber, energy, and chemicals, and to work with us to direct our new product development in meaningful ways.

"In addition to the cost reduction efforts that positively impacted the first quarter, further efficiency improvements were initiated in the quarter, and future cost reduction remains a high priority.

Albany Door Systems

"Results of our Albany Door Systems segment continue to be negatively affected by slow economies, leading to decreased capital spending by our customers in the U.S. and Europe. Net sales increased 14 percent as compared to the same period last year. However, net sales declined 2.2 percent excluding the effect of changes in currency translation rates. Despite the economic slowdown, we had positive gains in manufacturing efficiencies and the elimination of low-margin products during the quarter. These gains should have a positive effect on our results when the economies strengthen.

Applied Technologies

"In spite of the weak global business climate, net sales in the Applied Technologies segment during the quarter increased 7.6 percent, and 5.8 percent excluding the effect of changes in currency translation rates as compared to the same period last year. Improved sales and the effect of cost reduction initiatives positively impacted earnings in the first quarter.

"Sales of PrimaLoft® synthetic down insulation for outerwear and home furnishings increased in the U.S. and Europe. Our European market penetration is increasing, as PrimaLoft production within Europe is now fully operational. In addition, the tannery and textile fabrics and Techniweave businesses reported sales gains."

Looking Ahead

Mr. Schmeler continued, "Global economic uncertainties created a difficult operating environment in the quarter. While we see improvements in selected markets, we do not yet see sustained global improvement for our customers. As a result, we will continue to focus on areas within our control and prepare our businesses for eventual economic recovery.

"Our employees are using the Albany Value Concept to match our products and services to our customers' needs. We believe this approach can favorably impact our customers' operational efficiency and overall product quality, while ultimately improving their earnings. Helping our customers remain successful is essential to our future and should improve returns to our shareholders.

"Improvements in operational efficiency, cost reduction, and new product development remain a high priority and contributed to our first-quarter results. The $30 million cost reduction initiative announced in January 2003 resulted in restructuring charges of approximately $0.8 million during the first quarter. We expect similar restructuring charges in the next quarter and substantially higher restructuring charges in the second half of 2003. The initiative will be completed by mid-year 2004 as anticipated.

"We thank our employees for their contributions during the first quarter, as we strive to deliver greater value to our customers and shareholders."

This release contains certain non-GAAP financial measures. Such measures are provided because management believes that, when presented together with the GAAP items to which they relate, they can provide additional useful information to investors regarding the registrant's financial condition and results of operations.

The effect of changes in currency translation rates is calculated by converting amounts reported in local currencies into U.S. dollars at the exchange rate of a prior period. That amount is then compared to the U.S. dollar amount reported in the current period.

Forward-looking statements in this release or in the webcast, including statements about future sales, earnings, pricing, markets, cost reductions, new products and process improvements, paper industry consolidation and outlook, inventory and accounts receivable reduction, capital expenditures, tax rates, depreciation, and amortization, are made pursuant to the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such statements are based on current expectations and are subject to various risks and uncertainties, including, but not limited to, economic conditions affecting the paper industry and other risks and uncertainties set forth in the Company's 2002 Annual Report to Shareholders and subsequent filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
